

A black and white architectural floor plan of a small apartment. The plan is divided into three main rooms: a living and dining area, a bathroom, and a bedroom. The living and dining area is the largest, located on the right side of the plan. The bathroom is a small, rectangular room located between the living area and the bedroom. The bedroom is a rectangular room located at the bottom of the plan. The walls are represented by thick black lines, and the doors are indicated by thin lines with arcs. There are also some small details like windows and a kitchen area on the left side of the plan.
